

Are subject to the legalization documents drawn up by Russian institutions and intended

The legalization documents are to be made by Russian institutions and is intended for submission to the authorities of foreign countries are not included in the Hague Convention and non-signatories with Russia a bilateral agreement abolishing this procedure. You also need to legalize documents drawn up by agencies of foreign countries for presentation at the territory of Russia. Legalization of documents is always done at the place of issue of documents. Preparation for apostilization and consular legalization of documents takes time and expertise. Translation Kronos offers services on apostilization and consular legalization of your documents. We professionally and on time perform all actions necessary for legal assurances of your documents and their translation.

Link to article:: Are subject to the legalization documents drawn up by Russian institutions and intended