

Legalization

Consular legalization Consular legalization is the same thing that the Apostille only for countries not party to the Hague Convention. So for example if your documents are destined for China or the UAE you will need consular legalization of your documents. It also confirms the legitimacy of your documents for their removal to another state but this procedure is more complex and includes several state courts which increases the execution time up to 3-4

Link to article:: Legalization